The Statements of Kellogg and Spofford in the Louisiana Cases, Filed and Read before the Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections,

A Republican Consultation to Discuss the President and his Policy-The Cabinet Absorbed in Appropriations-Sherman's Relentless Contraction Policy.

WASHINGTON.

How a Newspaper Editorial begat a How in Treasury Circles-That Little Bill of Expenses of Mathews, which Old Zach Chandler Had to Foot,

Washington, October 26.—The senate committee on privileges and elections met this morning to receive the written statements of Kellogg and Spofford, of Louisiana, contestants to seats in the senate, each expressing himself ready. Senator Hoar offered a resolution, which was unanimously agreed to, that he committee take a recess, in order that the contestants might file their mateuments with the clerk, and that an opportunity be given each to examine the stateportunity be given each to examine the state-ment of his opponent and to prepare, if de-sired, any reply thereto.

KELLOGG'S STATEMENT.

The committee having reassembled, the statement of Kellogg was read. He says:

'i assume it is not within the power of any claimant or contestant for a seat in the any claimant or contestant for a seat in the senate to waste time, or in any degree contest the right of a State to her duly chosen representatives in the senate, and that the committee so understands the matter, and that the committee's request for a statement of the evidence which the contestants desire to present to the committee, does not indicate that the committee will suffer our requests in any degree to control the committee or the senate in regard to the range which will be given to this evidence. I desire to place at the beginning of this reply the view which I take of the law of contest; that view is, that the substantial merits of this contested claim to the seat, and the question which, or whether either of the two rival bodies claiming to be the legislature of said State in Janury last, when I was elected, is the true and and lawful legislature, are determined under the constitution and laws of the United States, and of Louisiana, by the record evi-A CABLE DISPATCH from Moscow, last light, states that yesterday a person named deprived the State and the senate of the best and conclusive evidence both of the existence of a lawful legislature and of its elections to the senate, it is not lawful for the senate to pass by this highest and conclusive evidence so supplied for the purpose of trying in the senate who were elected to the legislature. This thing is confided to the States themselves, to be determined through their returning-officers in the first instance. States themselves, to be determined through their returning-officers in the first instance, and thereafter by those who hold the prima facie evidence of the right to compose such houses. By such legislature, so conclusively made the lawful legislature of the State, I was, on the tenth of January last, duly elected to the senate, and record evidence of that election now in possession of the committee is the same which is enumerated in my letter to the committee of the twenty-second instant. To this enumeration I refer as containing a statement of what I deem the only competent and conclusive evidence in this case, and which establishes my title to a seat, both prima facie and on substantial merits. If, however, the committee should hold that this view of mine is not a true one, and that the duty of the commission, either hold that this view of mine is not a true one, and that the duty of the commission, either owing to the violence and revolutionary disorders which assailed the government of the State, or from any other cause, require the committee to go into matters behind this record of the evidence showing the lawfulness of my election and of the legislature which made it, then I shall ask the committee to go to the bottom of things. I shall ask the committee to investigate and decide who were entitled to compose the legislature and executive of Louisiana as determined by the election of 1876, after eliminating from that election and its returns all consequences of those offenses against a free and pure election which are prohibited by the constitution and laws of Louisiana. I add below a most definite statement as to what evidence I will ask the committee to take in the event it shall determine that. In making up the returns of all ermine that. In making up the returns of all he persons and officers voted for at the election of November, 1876, in the State of Lou-isiana, I shall also ask, in the event that the committee shall decide to go behind the record cyndence to which I have alluded, that the testimony taken by the committee of the senate, of which Senator Howe was chair-man, in 1877, may be ordered by the senate to be used for the purpose of such investiga-

Judge Spofford, in his statement, says that "no evidence beyond his credentials and the historical facts of which the senand the historical facts of which the sen-ate will take judicial notice, is required or should be demanded. In obedience to the orders and resolutions of the committee he proposes to prove—first, that by the actual returns collected by the parish supervisors of registration and their oppointees, the commissioners of elections, showing the votes actually in the ballot-boxes at the close of the actually in the ballot boxes at the close of the election in Louisiana the seventh of November, 1876, it appears that enough of the senators and representatives received into the Packard legislature upon certificates of the so-ceiled returning-board, were defeated at the polls to show there never was, from first to bart, a quorum of elected members in either branch of that legislature; second, that William Stevens, a holding-over senator adhering to the Nicholls legislature, was captured and taken to the Packard senate chamber the first of January, 1877, and kept there by duress and against his protest, he refusing to participate in their action and repudiating their authority as a senate, just for the purpose of swearing in as members of the prepose of swearing in as members of the pur-pose of swearing in as members of the pre-tended senate Baker and Kelso, who had not only been defeated at the polis as candidates for the senate, but were so reported by the returning-board, and their competitors were actually elected and admitted so as to be by the returning-board, and set as members from their respect. board, and set as members from their respect-ive senatorial districts in Nicholl's senate throughout the session; and that were was no contest, and no notice of contest over their seats, but the seating of Baker and Kelso was seats, but the seating of Baker and Kelso was entirely unlawful, inexcusable, and of no effect." In continuing his statement, Judge Spofford says "that by actual returns or statements, as made on duplicates by the supervisors of registration with their appointees, commissioners of election and sent, one set to the clerk of the district court of each county parish and to the secretary of state, in the city, and to the other returning-board, so-called, showed a majority of the votes actually cast throughout lie State of about eight thousand for Nicholls and Wiltz over Packard and Antoine for governor and lieutenantterminable, in the first instance, alone by the returning officers of Louisiana, and de-terminable ultimately by the two houses of the legislature, which are composed of those, and those only, who are found entitled to seats therein by the certificates of the return-ing officers of the State. In the event of the committee's adoption of that range of in-quiry just stated, I shall ask the committee to investigate and report upon the following matters:

First—The violence and other revolution-ary and unlawful acts and influences resorted to, either to prevent the organization of the legislature by which I was elected, or to deprive either branch thereof of a quorum before, or at the time, or after my said election to the senate.
Second—The violence and other revolutionary or unlawful acts and influences reserted to, to deprive of their offices the executive and judicial officers of Louisiana, belonging to what is known as the Packard government. Third—The ac's resorted to secure the organization of what is known as the vicholls legislature, and the interment and continuance in power of the Nicholls government.

rourth—The character, extent and effect upon the election in Louisiana in 1876 of these offenses against the election laws, which are enumerated in such laws, and especially in the twenty-sixth section of the act of 1872.

Fifth—That in the action of the returning officers, if such exclusions are made as are reofficers, if such exclusions are made as are required by the design of the law, it will be found that the action of the returning-board in certifying the election of members of the senate and house as they did, was justified by the evidence and law in the case.

JUDGE SPOFFORD'S REPLY.

Mr. Spofford, in his supplemental state "The vagueness of the statements of Kel "The vagueness of the statements of Kellogg as to what he desires to prove, renders it impossible for me to specify what I shall desire to adduce in reputtal. A suit upon such pleadings could have no end, and I assume that it is the desire of Kellogg and the committee, as it certainly is mine, that this matter should be determined speedily—certainly within a few weeks. As to the specific document referred to by Governor Kellogg, in his letter to the committee, of the twenty-second instant, I shall desire to prove that the act creating the superior civil court fell through, ain utter abortion; that it did not require any repeal, because it never went into require any repeal, because it never went into vital force; that professing to abolish the sixth district court of New Orleans, it never did abolish it, but that the court has continued aud still exists in the full exercise of it ued and still exists in the full exercise of its original jurisdiction, though there has been no law reviving it. If it be deemed proper or material to go into a general investigation whose horizon is boundless, as indicated by Kellogg, the only effect of which will be an indefinite delay and profitless wrangling, the undersigned suggests that it would not be proper to limit quotations to the testimony taken by the Howe committee, but that the testimony taken by Mr. Morrison, of the committee of the house, should, in common fairness to the other side, be allowed consideration. Of course the journals and acts of the assembly of the Nicholls legislature, as printed in volumes, by authority, can be referred to; and the undersigned, in return, agrees either party.

The committee, after hearing the statements read, had a brief secret session, ordered them printed, and adjourned until Monday.

Special to the Cincinnati Enquirer.]

WASHINGTON, October 24.-John Sherman is still pursuing his relentless policy of contraction. When detected in the devious ways he takes to carry out his schemes, he has some one in his department to do his "demiging." I cite in illustration: Somebody at the department told a newspaper man that the applications for increased circulation at the applications for increased circulations the national banks would amount to five million dollars month. It went to New York, and the Commercial newspaper had a violent editorial upon it. The comptroller of the currency was quite enraged at this statement, because it involved a contrac-tion of the legal reserve of national banks to the extent of about four million dollars in one week. He said the amount taken out last month was one million two hundred and fifty thousand dollars; the amount taken out this month would be about two million dollars, and about two million dollars will be taken out next month. He said that this increased circulation is needed for the banks to creased circulation is needed for the banks to move the crops west and south to the seaboard, and that there is nothing unusual about it—that every fall the demands of this kind come on when the country is in immediate need of currency, all of which sensible men can put in their pipes and smoke, but needn't believe it nevertheless. The correspondent of the New York Graphic from this point made a charge, in a recent dispatch, that when Mathews was telrecent dispatch, that when Mathews was telegraphed for to defend Hayes's title before the electoral commission, Zach Chandler told him he could not pay him a retainer, but him he could not pay him a retainer, but would pay his expenses. He charged that Mathews, on arriving in Washington, went to the most expensive hotel, procured sumptions apartments, and remained in them until after the inauguration of President Hayes. While here he gave several dinner-parties, and hired carriages for himself and family by days. When he left he directed Wormley, the hotel-proprietor, to make out his bill to the Republican National committee, and send it to Z. Chandler, chairman. This request was complied with, and Mr. Chandler, chairman, was very much surprised when he glanced at the total of nearly nine hunder dred dollars. This Wormley did, and Mr. Chandler gave him his personal check for the amount, receiving a personal acknowledgment of payment. Chandler retains that bill as a relic of a system in politics which stanley Mathews has so often denounced. Yesterday the correspondent of the Graphic was on the floor of the senate. He was told by a senator that Mr. Mathews was very much annoyed concerning the foregoing publication, and sent word to the author that he would be glad to see him. Mr. Cartis, the body was in session, and said: "Mr. Mathews's seat on the floor of the senate, while reference to a publication in the New York of Graphic." "I only wanted to say to you, sir, that you are a scoundrel and a liar," replied Mathews. "Well," said Curtis, "you have the advantage of me in bandying that reference to a publication that such a bill is in existence, and that among those who have seen it and heard Mr. Chandler's reflection that such a bill is in existence, and that among those who have seen it and heard Mr. Chandler's reflection that such a bill is in existence, and that among those who have the seen it and heard Mr. Chandler's reflection that such a bill is in existence, and that among those who have the seen it and heard Mr. Chandler's reflection that such a bill is in existence, and that among those who have the development of the dear and others. The entries to-day for the trotting-race were as follows: Charley T., Yankee Sam, Chieftain, Baywood and Nelly Brown. The first and second heats were won by Yankee Sam, with Charley T. second, Chieftain third, Baywood fourth, and Nelly Brown fifth, in each. The time of each was 2:32. Baywood was ruled out on the second heat. The third heat was very close between the three leading racers; Yankee Sain and Chieftain passed racers; Yankee Sam and Chieftain passed under the string, nose and nose, with Charley T. close up, resulting in a dead-heat between the first two, with Charley T. as second, Nelly Brown third. Time—2:30½. Fourth heat—Yankee Sam in the lead, Chieftain close up, but Charley spurted in ahead of both and took the pole. Result: Charley first, coming out half a length ahead, Chieftain second, Yankee Sam third, Nelly Brown fourth. During this heat there was much breaking and some running. Owing to the proof that Charley T. was run unduly, and whipped while running, the heat was given to Chieftain, with Yankee Sam second, Charley T. third, and Nelly Brown fourth. Owing to the lateness of the hour the race was postponed until one o'clock Saturday evening, when the contest will be decided.

General William H. Jackson and Hon. John Overton, sr., of Nashville, occupied positions on the judges' stand yesterday and today, and rendered valuable assistance in the rulings.

Miss Annie Scurlock, who was run over by Miss Annie Scurlock, who was run over by Matagorda in the race of yesterday, sustained a fracture of one collar bone and one rib. Her condition is more favorable and her chances for recovery are considered good. The rider of Matagorda was Johnnie Hovey instead of Johnnie Johnson, as stated. He is up and able for duty. The condition of Eddie Madison, the rider of Sherwood, is more favorable. Altogether, the escape of these parties from death seems incredible.

SEWING-MACHINES. THE NEW

Sewing-Machine. WHAT IT IS.

IT is the most powerful and durable, the lightestrunning, and most silent Sewing-Machine made.
POWER.—The application of force directly over the needle insures ample power and enables it to go through the heaviest work with ease.

DURABILITY.—All the working parts are thoroughly hardened, and so adjusted that lost motion can be readily taken up.

KASE OF ACTION.—The simplicity of its machinery, the few bearings and points of friction, and the absence of all cams and gear-wheels, give it a light, easy action that requires but little motive power. power.

It has an automatic Tension, which being self-regulating, does away with what in other machines is a fruitful source of annoyance and trouble.

There being no cogs to rattle, and no exams to rub and grind, it does its work without noise.

Its action is so light and easy that it can be run by a fine cotton thread in place of the ordinary leather band.

neccunt of its light-running qualities.
"Why! how easy it runs!" is the invariable expression of those who operate it for the first time. G. W. FISHER, General Agent Domestic Sewing-Machine Co.. 63 Madison st., bet. 2d & 3d st., Memphis.
